Plan for deadly highway needed 'yesterday': McIver

Trip. Premier Redford is scheduled to meet with Fort McMurray officials on Tuesday

JEREMY NOLAÏS
jeremy.nolais@metronews.ca

After taking a ride on Alberta's ill-fated Highway 63 over the long weekend, the Provincial Transportation Minister says he wants the busy stretch fixed "yesterday."

Ric McIver — a former Calgary alderman who was recently entrusted with the transportation portfolio by Premier Alison Redford — said he wanted to gain firsthand knowledge of where problem areas exist on the highway running from Edmonton to Fort McMurray.

"It's a good road when it's not busy, I can see that," he said Monday.

But it's when the single-lane highway becomes crowded that tragedy occurs, such as a crash last month that killed seven people.

The province has pledged to twin the road, but critics say it has taken far too long and thousands turned up for a protest earlier this month demanding action.

Nicole Auser, who helped organize the demonstration, deemed McIver's commitment to finding solutions a breath of fresh air.

She said residents in the area have also noticed a renewed devotion to construction on the highway.

"This is something people have been fighting for, for a very long time," she said.

McIver said Highway 63 is near the top of his priority list as he continues to familiarize himself with Alberta's transportation system as a whole.

"I can tell you there are a lot of people doing a lot of work right now preparing to find ways to accelerate the process," he said of the twinning.

Search for two missing boaters continues

The search continued Monday for two Camrose-area men who went missing while on a fishing trip at Coal Lake in Wetaskiwin County.

The men, identified as Dallas Simons, 26, and Everett Westerneng, 19, were reported missing early Saturday after not returning when they said they would Friday night.

After searching Saturday and recovering the men's capsized boat, RCMP began a recovery mission Sunday, including sonar and divers searching the lake.

Nearly 200 people also helped with the search, many returning to help again Monday.

It is suspected the men weren't wearing life-jackets, RCMP said.

Citizenship ceremony. About 30 immigrants officially became Canadian citizens on Victoria Day

When Congolese immigrant Clementine Mifire saw snow for the first time upon moving to Canada in 2001, she was excited.

"From a small child, I would see it on the TV — one day I want to come here," the mother of five said Monday following a citizenship ceremony for approximately 30 people at Government House.

Mifire arrived in Ottawa with her three daughters, then met her military husband and moved to Montreal before arriving in Edmonton in 2007.

She now has five children — including Ornela, 14, and Stella, 12, who also became Canadians on Monday.

"I came to Canada for protection first," she said. "But (this has) been my dream. For me and my family."

The new Canadians were congratulated by the likes of former senator Tommy Banks, MP Laurie Hawn, Deputy Premier Thomas

The architect is currently a stay-at-home mom to her children, ages one and three.

"It was something very much prepared for destiny," she said of her journey to Canada. "I feel very lucky."

During his speech, Polish-born Lukaszuk noted those same feelings when he became a Canadian 30 years ago.

"You will see Canada will have a great deal to give to you," he said. "Do remember this day."

Diamond Jubilee

- To honour the 60th anniversary of the Queen's reign, Congolese immigrant Clementine Mifire and Lt-Gov. Donald Ethell took part in a tree-planting ceremony Monday, planting an "Amber Jubilee" shrub, a gift from Manitoba.

- Officials presiding over the ceremony noted 2012 is also the 100th anniversary of the Alberta Legislature building and the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812.

Edmonton police said they responded to the crash just after 1:30 a.m. in the area of 152 Avenue and 139 Street. The man was pronounced dead on scene by emergency crews.

The crash is still under investigation, but police believe speed was a factor.

Cab drivers that soon find themselves out of work may still have an opportunity to pick up passengers.

NorQuest College's Bridge to Transit Operators course provides requirements for a local transit operator position — and the City of Edmonton is considering paying full tuition for a class of 20.

Coun. Tony Caterina thinks it's reasonable if the need is there.

"It's geared more towards the airport (drivers)," he said, "because we can only have a certain number of taxi licences for the city."

An agreement finalized earlier this year means one or more city brokers will gain the Edmonton International Airport contract in June, leaving more than 200 Airport Taxi Service drivers looking for work.

Due to the airport's need, 100 new city taxi licences were added but a city report says 850 unsuccessful applicants are eligible to apply to NorQuest — though it's unlikely that many will.

"It's a good gesture from the city," said Airport Taxi Service union rep Wayne Prins, Alberta director for the Christian Labour Association of Canada. "But to suggest it's a perfect fit for everyone

Recommendation. No clemency for Alberta man on death row, says Montana parole board

The parole board in Montana on Monday recommended that an Alberta man on death row be denied clemency.

Ronald A. Smith's case now goes to Gov. Brian Schweitzer, who has the final say on the matter. Smith is seeking life in prison without the possibility of parole — instead of the death sentence he now faces.

Smith is believed to be one of only two Canadians on death row in the United States.

He argues his original 1983 trial for shooting two Blackfeet cousins — in which he asked for and received the death penalty — was botched. His attorneys also have argued it is fundamentally unfair that Smith, of Red Deer, Alta., be killed while an accomplice was long ago released on parole and returned to Canada.

The Montana Parole Board earlier this month heard testimony for a full day, with Smith's family tearfully pleading for his life. But Blackfeet tribal members and family of the victims argued the execution has been postponed for too long and say it is time for Smith to pay for his crimes.

The Canadian government, after some internal policy changes, is again asking Schweitzer to spare Smith's life.

There is no time limit for a final decision from Schweitzer. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto-area woman one of four to die descending Mount Everest

150 climbers. Brief window of good weather leads to traffic jam on the mountain Saturday

A Canadian woman has died pursuing her dream of scaling Mount Everest.

Shriya Shah-Klorfine, of Toronto, was among three people who died while descending from the summit Saturday in what are being described as overcrowded conditions.

"My wife was someone who lived life to its fullest, with irrepressible energy and vitality," her husband Bruce Klorfine said.

Shah-Klorfine was believed to be the first South Asian woman from Canada to try to raise the Canadian flag on Everest.

Born in Kathmandu, Nepal, Shah-Klorfine, 33, grew up in Mumbai, India and moved to Canada to be with her husband.

Shah-Klorfine was on the board of the Conservative Party's Toronto-Davenport riding association.

The climbers who died were believed to have suffered exhaustion and altitude sickness. One other person, a Sherpa guide, was listed as missing Monday. The other victims were German doctor Eberhard Schaaf, South Korean Song Won-bin, and Chinese climber, Wang-yi Fa, 55.

Quake in north Italy kills seven

A magnitude 6.0 earthquake shook northern Italy early Sunday, killing at least seven people and toppling some buildings.

The quake struck early Sunday morning between Modena and Mantova, about 35 kilometers north-northwest of Bologna.

Cheese producer Oriano Caretti woke up to the shaking earth, and then to the roar of 30,000 39-kilogram wheels of Parmesan cheese crashing to the ground in the warehouse next to his home.

The 6.0 magnitude quake toppled centuries old buildings also caused enormous damage to the region's world-renown cheese production. The Coldiretti Italian farm lobby said 400,000 wheels of Parmesan and Grana Padano cheese were damaged when the racks where they are aged collapsed.

Total agriculture losses, including lost cheese, felled livestock and damaged machinery in the agriculturally rich Po River Valley, are estimated at $200 million.

Four of the seven dead were workers on the overnight shift who were buried in rubble. The other three victims — including a German tourist and an Italian centenarian — died of heart attacks or health conditions brought on by fear.

In all, one farm lobby group says 400,000 wheels of Parmesan and Grana Padano cheese were damaged in the quake.

"Considering that what you see here represents the work of seven companies for two years, this means that the repercussions on the rural economy of these farms and this territory will feel it pretty badly," Caretti said.

Four of the seven dead were workers on the overnight shift who were buried in rubble.

No Canadian boots on Afghan soil after 2014, Harper says

Afghanistan. 'If you asked me frankly, would I wish it was earlier? I would say yes,' said Harper at NATO summit

Canada's military involvement in Afghanistan will come to a firm end in March 2014, the prime minister said Monday at the close of the NATO summit.

Though Canada will continue to financially support the Afghan army, there will be no boots on the ground once the NATO-led mission there comes to a close, Stephen Harper said.

"The time has come," Harper said. "All the benchmarks, all the milestones are being met to make this possible."

The announcement came as NATO and its partner nations formally agreed that Afghan security forces would take control of any combat next summer with NATO sliding into a support role until 2014.

They expressed confidence in the ability of Afghan security forces to take the lead a year earlier than originally planned.

"Transition means the people of Afghanistan increasingly see their own army and police in their towns and villages providing their security," NATO Secretary-General Anders Fogh Rasmussen said.

"This is an important sign of progress toward our shared goal: an Afghanistan governed and secured by Afghans for Afghans."

The arc of Harper's views on Afghanistan might have been summed up in his body language as he and other NATO leaders began their final day of meetings. Harper was once the strongest proponent of the war in Afghanistan, vowing Canada wouldn't cut and run.

Two Canadian women fatally stabbed in botched robbery

Two Canadian women were fatally stabbed Monday during a botched robbery in a southern New Jersey resort community.

The victims, ages 47 and 80, were both stabbed multiple times in the upper body. Both died a short time after at a hospital.

Sgt. Monica McMennamin, an Atlantic City police spokeswoman, said Antoinette Pelzer, 44, was arrested around 10 a.m., just moments after the robbery occurred.

Pelzer initially was charged with two counts of aggravated assault and weapons offences. But Atlantic County prosecutor Ted Housel said she would likely face more serious charges following the victims' deaths.

Housel said a city police officer who happened to be patrolling in the area witnessed the stabbing and quickly subdued Pelzer at gunpoint on a block not far from the city's casino district.

Dozens of Roman Catholic dioceses, schools and other institutions sued the Obama administration Monday over a government mandate requiring most employers to provide

The lawsuits filed in federal courts around the U.S. represent the largest push against the mandate since President Barack Obama announced the policy in January. ## Strauss-Kahn. French prosecutor investigating rape allegations

A French prosecutor on Monday opened a preliminary investigation into allegations of rape in a Washington hotel by former IMF chief Dominique Strauss-Kahn.

The move by the prosecutor in Lille in northern France followed a request by investigating judges earlier this month to broaden a suspected prostitution probe to examine the claims of rape in December 2010.

Bus falls off cliff in Albania, at least 12 dead

School trip. Prime Minister Sali Berisha sent condolences to the families of the dead

A bus carrying university students on a pre-graduation trip toppled off a mountain cliff in southern Albania on Monday, killing 12 people and injuring another 21, authorities said.

University officials said two buses had been taking 75 third-year language and literature students and three professors from Aleksander Xhuvani University in the city of Elbasan on a trip to the southern city of

One bus carrying 33 people fell 80 metres off the road near the town of Himare, 220 kilometres south of the capital, Tirana, a police spokeswoman said.

The cause of the crash was unclear. Albanian media quoted one of the passengers and a resident near the crash site as saying the bus had been going very fast. Albania's transport minister also said the road had been recently repaired.

Fourteen of the injured students were in serious condition and were flown by helicopter to Tirana's military hospital. One died on the way, raising the death toll to 12.

Local prefect Edmond Velcani said the bus driver was among the dead.

Canadian banks. Profits to grow in second quarter

After starting the year with strong earnings momentum, Canada's biggest banks will likely report slower growth in the second quarter when they begin rolling out results this week.

The big question will be which banks come out on top in a quarter that's expected to be characterized by lower trading revenues and a weaker outlook for the rest of the year.

"I wouldn't say there's going to be one bank that clearly leaves the rest in the dust," said Gareth Watson, vice-president of investment management at GMP Richardson Ltd.

One factor will be which banks have stronger capital market activity and trading revenues, he added.

"You can't necessarily gauge what those results are going to be, without know-

Bank of Montreal will be the first of the big banks to release its second-quarter earnings as it is scheduled to report Wednesday. TD Bank and Royal Bank deliver their results on Thursday. Scotiabank follows on May 29 and CIBC on May 31.

Downloads. U.S. court sticks with filesharing fine

The U.S. Supreme Court won't reduce the $675,000 US verdict against a Boston University student who illegally downloaded 30 songs and shared them on the Internet.

The high court on Monday refused to hear an appeal from Joel Tenenbaum, of Providence, R.I., who was successfully sued by the Recording Industry Association of America for illegally sharing music on peer-to-peer networks.

In 2009, a jury ordered Tenenbaum to pay $675,000

US, or $22,500 for each song he illegally downloaded and shared.

A federal judge called that unconstitutionally excessive, but the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reinstated the penalty at the request of Sony BMG Music Entertainment, Warner Brothers Records, and other record labels represented by the RIAA.

Chief Justice John Roberts and Justice Stephen Breyer did not participate in this decision.

U.K.'s proposed surveillance program could expose private lives: Experts

British officials have given their word: "We won't read your emails."

But experts say the government's proposed new surveillance program will gather so much data that spooks won't have to read your messages to guess what you're up to.

The U.K. Home Office stresses it won't be reading the content of every Britons' communications, saying the data it seeks "is NOT the content of any communication." It is, however, looking for information about who's sending the message and to whom, where it's sent from and other details, including a message's length and its format.

The proposal, unveiled last week as part of the government's annual legislative program, is just a draft bill, so it could be modified or scrapped.

But if passed in its current form, it would put a huge amount of personal data at the government's disposal, which it could use to deduce a startling amount about Britons' private lives — from sleep patterns to driving habits or even infidelity.

"We're entering a whole new phase of analysis based on the data that we can collect," said Gerald Kane, an information systems expert at Boston College. The ocean of information is hard to fathom. Britons generate four billion hours of voice calls and 130 billion text messages annually, according to industry figures. In 2008, the BBC put the annual number of U.K.-linked emails at around one trillion. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Data

So even without opening emails, how much can British spooks learn about who's sending them?

- The ebb and flow of electronic communication, that call to your mother just before bed, that morning email to your boss saying you'll be late, frames our waking lives.

Three, two...wait

Private rocket-maker SpaceX is shooting for a Tuesday liftoff after fixing the engine problem that led to a launch abort over the weekend.

The U.S. company is the first private business to attempt to launch a spacecraft with supplies to the International Space Station.

Forecasters say there's an 80 per cent chance the weather in Cape Canaveral will co-operate.

All nine engines on the Falcon 9 rocket ignited during the first launch attempt Saturday. But with just a half-second remaining before liftoff, on-board computers shut everything down.

Facebook stock sinks below IPO price on Day 2

Social network. Website loses nearly $10 billion of its market value

Facebook's stock tumbled well below its $38 US IPO price in the social network's second day of trading as a public company on Monday.

By late afternoon, Facebook's stock was at $34.26, down 10.4 per cent from Friday's closing price of $38.23. The company lost nearly $10 billion of its market value, and is now worth around $96 billion, about $2 billion below Amazon.com Inc.

"There must have been some sober second thoughts about this," said Brian Wieser, an analyst at Pivotal Research Group who was first to come out with a "Sell" rating on Facebook's stock on Friday.

Opening day

Facebook's market debut Friday suffered some hiccups.

- Trading on the Nasdaq was delayed for a half-hour due to issues with traders' orders.
- Although many had hoped for a big first day, Facebook's stock opened Friday at $42.05 and fluctuated between $45 and $38 throughout the day before closing at $38.23.

book's stock on Friday.

It's not that he thinks the world's largest online social network is a bad investment. But at $38 per share, it's just too expensive considering the risks associated with Facebook's brief history and unproven advertising model, he says. His fair price, or "target price," is $30.

Initial public offerings are a delicate game of supply and demand. The investment banks orchestrating the transaction, the deal's underwriters, work with the company to decide how much stock to sell and at what price.

In Facebook's case, says Michael Pachter, an analyst with Wedbush Securities, the "underwriters gave FB poor advice, and allowed them to sell too much stock, then didn't properly sell the deal."

Investors and technology-industry watchers are closely tracking the Menlo Park, Calif.-based company's shares. Facebook's initial public stock offering was one of the most anticipated ever, and now serves as a bellwether for other social-media companies.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY: ONE DESPERATE COTTAGE GUEST

SHE SAYS...
Jessica Napier
metronews.ca/shesays

With the Victoria Day long weekend behind us, the summer season has officially begun.

City dwellers delight in the mass exodus that takes place each sun-filled weekend as urbanites pack up their coolers and head out of town. As a national pastime, cottaging (a uniquely Canadian verb) is on par with wearing plaid shirts and truly believing that this is the year that our team will bring home the Stanley Cup.

I was never one of those fortunate people whose parents invested in a piece of summer property — yes, I know, a first-world problem. Consequently, I've had to make some strategic moves to expand my social circle so that I might have a chance to experience the great outdoors while still enjoying the luxuries of indoor plumbing.

A few years ago, I was unreasonably disappointed when my good friend broke up with her long-time boyfriend whose family owned 3,000 square-feet of lake-front paradise and not one, but two boats. Sure they were never meant to last, but couldn't she have waited until after Thanksgiving? He had a water trampoline for crying out loud.

Cottage, anyone?

Over time, as friends have moved on and moved away, I've found the number of annual cottage invites dwindling. And so, I'm going to take this opportunity to make a case for myself as the BEST cottage guest you never asked for.

I have spent years acquiring Canadiana-inspired outfits to wear for all sorts of cabin-in-the-woods-themed weekends. My wardrobe is starting to look like a Hudson's Bay Co. catalogue.

I'll happily spend the afternoon running to and from the beer fridge to ensure that all cottage-goers are staying properly hydrated. And when the rain clouds roll in, I have you covered with a seriously large collection of board games. Twister, Scattergories, Taboo, Scrabble ... boredom is not an option when I come to visit.

Finally, I deserve a getaway. A family of skunks — yes, skunks — recently took up residence underneath the house I live in. And since I'm in a basement apartment, this essentially means I have Pepe Le Pew and friends living in the wall behind my couch.

So if you've got a deck chair to spare this summer, I could use a weekend escape.

Over time, as friends have moved on and moved away, I've found the number of annual cottage invites dwindling. And so, I'm going to take this opportunity to make a case for myself as the BEST cottage guest you never asked for.

First of all, I have already assembled what I imagine to be the ultimate summer 2012 music playlist. You won't have to go through the hassle of finding the perfect ratio of party anthems to mid-afternoon nap jams. But if you just want to listen to Call Me Maybe on repeat I'm also totally OK with that.

Not quite a total eclipse

When sun and moon align

Hikers watch an annular eclipse from Papago Park in Phoenix on Sunday.

The annular eclipse, in which the moon passes in front of the sun leaving only a golden ring around its edges, was visible to wide areas across China, Japan and elsewhere in the region before moving across the Pacific to be seen in parts of the western United States late Sunday afternoon.

Astronomy 101

14,000

The eclipse followed a narrow 14,000-kilometre path for 3 1/2 hours. The ring phenomenon lasted about five minutes, depending on the location. People outside the narrow band for prime viewing saw a partial eclipse.

In Japan

Even lemurs react to marvellous sight

A Japanese zoo said the eclipse made lemurs believe it was evening.

Some 20 lemurs at the Japan Monkey Center in central Japan skipped breakfast, climbed up and jumped between trees and poles, a typical evening behaviour, according to the zoo. They returned to normal after the eclipse.

"They must be reacting to the eclipse," zoo director Akira Kato told public broadcaster NHK.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Enjoy responsibly

- 'Ring of fire' eclipses are not as dramatic as a total eclipse, when the disc of the sun is entirely blocked by the moon. The moon is too far from Earth and appears too small in the sky to blot out the sun completely.
- Doctors and education officials have warned of eye injuries from improper viewing. Before the event started, Japan's education minister demonstrated how to use eclipse glasses in a televised news conference.

Avengers still has muscle

The Avengers continues to muscle out everything else Hollywood throws at it, easily sinking naval rival Battleship and other new releases. With $55.1 million domestically, Disney's superhero sensation remained No. 1 for a third-straight weekend. Overseas, The Avengers added an additional $56 million. The film is approaching the $1.2 billion mark worldwide, totalling $457.1 million domestically and $723.3 million internationally. Universal's Battleship opened a distant No. 2 with $25.4 million domestically, well below industry expectations. Sacha Baron Cohen's comedy The Dictator, in which he plays a tyrannical third-world leader, debuted in third-place with $17.4 million for the weekend.

The Woman in Black

Director. James Watkins

Stars. Daniel Radcliffe, Janet McTeer

• • • • •

The Woman in Black is a haunted-house shocker set in the late 19th century in a remote Yorkshire village where the frights are foremost, and the acting of its star, Harry Potter's Daniel Radcliffe, is almost beside the point. You could hardly find a more scream-tested story. Based on Susan Hill's 1983 novel about a phantom woman killing children to avenge the loss of her son, the tale has also been told on stage, radio and in a TV movie. Radcliffe, playing London solicitor Arthur Kipps, must travel to Eel Marsh House, a dwelling so remote it is accessible by horse-drawn cart — and then only when the tide is out. Of course he must stay several nights at the eerie place, ignoring the ghost stories he's heard. Turns out he heard right: at Eel Marsh, Kipps doesn't just see dead people, he's practically stampeded by them, especially in the film's later reels, when The Woman in Black ends up a multi-generational horror show. Extras include a commentary with Watkins and Jane Goldman and two making-of featurettes.

Hey Brolin, what's a flux capacitor?

Pop quiz. Metro puts Men in Black 3 star Josh Brolin to the test, quizzing him on his knowledge of time travel — Hollywood style

Metro World News in Hollywood

Josh Brolin knew he was taking on a challenge when he signed on to play a younger version of Tommy Lee Jones in the time-travel-themed Men in Black 3. But how ready was he for the challenge of Metro's Time Travel Pop Quiz? Read on to find out.

First of all, how many gigawatts are required to energize the flux capacitor?

Um... 360,000?

Nope, 1.21.
I'm glad I got that so wrong (laughs).

While time-traveling, can you interact with your past or future self, or would that cause a catastrophic event?

It would cause a catastrophic event. But Boris the Animal does (in Men in Black 3). I just know that time travel as is understood by Hollywood and their storytelling has been if you in any way affect the past that you go into, that it always has a negative effect on the future. That's what I've been told, at least.

Speaking of, say you travel back in time and you arrive standing alone in front of a young Adolf Hitler. What do you do?

Befriend. That'd be the best way to get in there, and then you can detour him. Befriend and detour.

What kind of adventure did Bill and Ted have?

An excellent one. When I met Keanu Reeves, that was the first thing I said. I was like, "Bill and Ted, right on dude!" I did SNL recently and we did The Californians, and I think that was what I did, some version of guys I grew up with and Keanu Reeves in that movie.

In Terminator, is Arnold Schwarzenegger a cyborg, an alien or a wacky twin?

A cyborg, of course. But a different type of cyborg is Robert Patrick in number two, right? What's it called?

The T-1000.

The T-1000. Very good, man.

You know your stuff.

Which movie, in your opinion, gets time travel the most right?

God, man. Time Bandits by Terry Gilliam was probably my favorite time travel movie that I've seen, just because it was so fantastical, and Terry Gilliam is such a brilliant director. Like Brazil and Fear and Loathing, the lenses that he uses are so warped and all that. It's brilliant. I like that movie a lot.

I'll give you a chance to redeem yourself on the gigawatts question if you can tell me how fast the DeLorean in Back to the Future has to go to travel through time.

Oh God, I know this. Sixty-five?

Eighty-eight.

F—I wouldn't get very far.

OUR TAKE ON THE WORLD OF CELEBRITIES

The Word

Justin Bieber goes gaga for Selena Gomez's costar?

THE WORD
Monica Weymouth
scene@metronews.ca

"Thank you for the time I had with you but I have to move on now," Justin Bieber posted to his account. This comes after rumours that when visiting the set of girlfriend Selena Gomez's new movie, Spring Breakers, he fell for her nearly identical costar, Vanessa Hudgens (better known in this column as Zac Efron's unworthy ex).

For her part, Gomez closed her Instagram account, then took to Facebook with a photo of herself at a shooting range with the ominous caption, "Released some stress today." Twitter, Instagram, Facebook: are you following this? Forget that these two are famous — it's nearly impossible for any teenager to get dumped with a little dignity these days. We never thought we'd say this, but long live the days of dial-up AOL in your parents' dining room.

Call in the Army

After Van Halen cancelled the remainder of their tour on Friday, tribute band Van Halen's Army offered to step in. "They have an obligation to fulfill ... somebody signs up to do the job they should complete it," a guitarist identified as Joe tells TMZ.

Robin Gibb

Bee Gees singer Robin Gibb passes away

Less than a week after the passing of Donna Summer, another titan of disco is gone. "The family of Robin Gibb, of the Bee Gees, announce with great sadness that Robin passed away today following his long battle with cancer and intestinal surgery," a rep confirmed to Us Weekly in a statement. "The family have asked that their privacy is respected at this very difficult time." Gibb, who had been battling cancer for years, fell into a coma last month but recovered.

Tara Reid

Tara Reid parties it up in Cannes

Despite her efforts to present a cleaned up and mature image while promoting American Reunion, Tara Reid seems to be up to her old tricks. The troubled actress has been living it up in Cannes this weekend, where she was spotted looking worse for the wear while hurrying from one night club to another in the wee hours, according to the Daily Mail. Reid remains unapologetic about her penchant for celebrating. "It's not like going out and getting drunk is a crime, lots of people do it," she tells the U.K.'s Loaded magazine.

The one that got away: Katy Perry sings about marriage breakup

While Katy Perry's last breakup hit, Part of Me, proved to have been written before her marriage to, and split from, Russell Brand, sources say her latest single, Wide Awake, is most certainly about her 14-month marriage to the British comedian, according to People magazine.

"I wish I knew then what I know now," Perry sings on the track. "Wouldn't dive in, wouldn't bow down."

Need a vacation after your vacation? Here's an easy yoga sequence to ease travel-related stress, doable in a hotel room, at home or anywhere.

ROMINA MCGUINNESS
Metro World News in London, U.K.

Heart issues

Men are more immune to mental stress

Women are more likely to suffer heart trouble following an emotional episode than men, claim scientists from the Penn State College of Medicine. They found that while mental stress increased coronary blood flow in men, it caused no change in women, potentially putting women at a greater risk of developing heart problems.

METRO WORLD NEWS

A long journey can leave you feeling disorientated, stiff and groggy. You feel so rubbish you wonder why you bothered leaving in the first place.

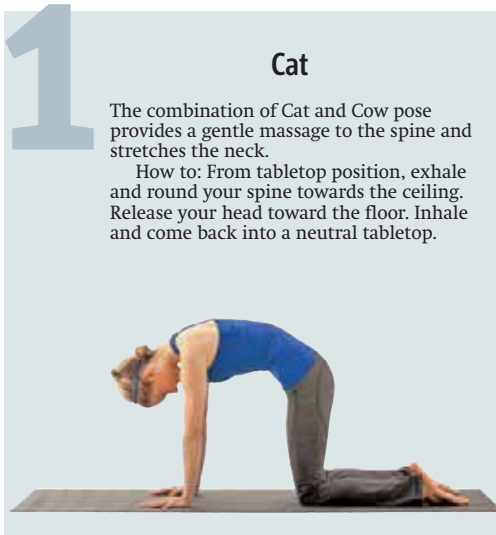

Stop whining and get moving. Yoga can be done anywhere, any time, so rather than suppress a yawn, do this simple sequence in your hotel room to boost your energy levels and restore core strength.

The poses will get your blood circulation going and help open up tight hips, backs, necks and shoulders, all of which get cramped when travelling, says yoga instructor Kristin McGee, who trains comedian Tina Fey.

Cat

The combination of Cat and Cow pose provides a gentle massage to the spine and stretches the neck.

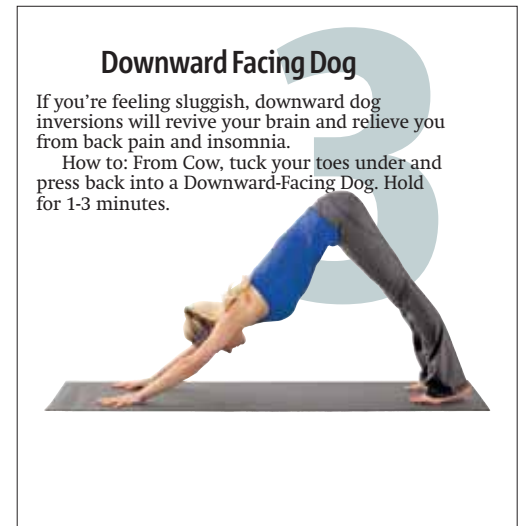

How to: From tabletop position, exhale and round your spine towards the ceiling. Release your head toward the floor. Inhale and come back into a neutral tabletop.

Cow

How to: Inhale and lift your sitting bones and chest toward the ceiling. Allow your belly to sink toward the floor. Lift your head and look straight forward. Exhale and come back into neutral.

Alternate between Cat and Cow for 5-8 cycles making sure you link breath and movement.

Downward Facing Dog

If you're feeling sluggish, downward dog inversions will revive your brain and relieve you from back pain and insomnia.

How to: From Cow, tuck your toes under and press back into a Downward-Facing Dog. Hold for 1-3 minutes.

One-Legged King Pigeon

Stretches the thighs, chest and neck and opens up the shoulders. Perfect if you've been sitting down too long. How to: From Downward-Facing Dog, slide your right knee forward and parallel to the front of the mat as you slide your left leg back. Recline forward if you can and stay for 8-10 breaths before switching sides.

Café Tiramisu has all the hipster signs: funky lattes, energy drinks, live music on Fridays and engaging young baristas.

However, the demographic range of the packed café was all over the map.

Seniors chatted over fresh baked pastries while children tussled over complimentary iPads in the Breathing Room.

I was invited to sit down and enjoy the table service — unexpected in a café — where I picked a Half-Bistecca Panini and Half-Quinoa Salad ($12) with a grande caffè Calabrese ($5). Both showed up quickly despite the busy kitchen.

Molten cheese, tender strips of grilled beef and warm, crisp veggies tantalized my palate with every bite of the toasted sandwich.

The cool, tangy quinoa salad was the best I had ever sampled.

I sipped at my chocolate-and-vanilla espresso (made with beans roasted on the premises) and smiled.

If Café Tiramisu is any indication of the action along 124th Street these days, I was going to lunch there more often. A lot more often.

Simplicity of Southern faves

These Shrimp and Grits with Spinach and Tomatoes are inspired by a recipe from Nathalie Dupree, cookbook author and Southern entertainer extraordinaire.

1. In 4-quart Dutch oven over medium-high, combine water and butter. Bring to a boil, then add grits, stirring as you do so.

2. Return to boil, then reduce heat to low to maintain a simmer. Cook, alternating with lid on and off, 40 minutes, or until soft but not mushy. If they get too stiff, add milk or water. Should be loose and creamy.

This recipe serves four. MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

3. Stir in the Boursin and cheddar cheeses, and the salt and pepper. Add the shrimp, stir and let simmer until cooked through, about 4 minutes.

4. Just before serving, stir in spinach and let wilt 2 minutes.

Garnish with the tomatoes and a generous amount of grated Parmesan. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS/ ELIZABETH KARMEL (GRILLING AND SOUTHERN FOODS EXPERT AND EXECUTIVE CHEF AT HILL COUNTRY BARBECUE MARKET RESTAURANTS AND HILL COUNTRY CHICKEN IN U.S.)

Ingredients

- 3 cups water
- 2 tbsp unsalted butter
- 1 cup corn grits
- Half of a 5.2-ounce wheel of Boursin cheese
- 1/2 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
- 1/2 to 1 tsp kosher salt
- 1 lb raw shrimp, peeled and deveined
- 3 cups baby spinach
- 1/2 cup grape tomatoes, halved
- Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 tsp ground black pepper
- 1 lb raw shrimp, peeled and deveined

Fancy snack. Bocconcini-Tomato Nibbles

1. Strip all but the top few leaves from rosemary sprigs to make skewers, reserving leaves; wrap skewers in plastic wrap and refrigerate.

2. Pierce potatoes all over with a fork. In saucepan, cover potatoes with cold water. Bring to boil over high heat and season water with salt. Reduce heat and boil gently for about 15 min or until potatoes are tender. Drain and let cool slightly.

3. Finely chop enough rosemary leaves to make 3/4 tsp (3 mL), reserving remaining leaves for another use. In a bowl, whisk chopped rosemary, vinegar, mustard and sugar. Gradually whisk in olive oil. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Transfer 2 tbsp (25 mL) of marinade to another bowl and add Bocconcini. Cut each potato in half and add to remaining marinade in bowl; toss gently to coat. Cover both bowls and refrigerate until potatoes are cool and flavourful, at least 4 hours.

4. Thread 1 potato half, 1 tomato and 1 Canadian Bocconcini onto each rosemary skewer and place on a serving platter. Drizzle with the marinade and sprinkle with basil, salt and pepper. (Platter can be wrapped and refrigerate for up to 2 hours. Let stand at room temperature for 15 minutes before serving.)

Hello Charles the Butler!
When I go to my friends' weddings, like everyone else I have to sit at a table of about 10 people, but I often don't know most of them. Am I honestly expected to talk to these strangers at my table?

It would be very rude to arrive at a dinner table, sit down, and not speak to anyone except the person beside you!

Yes, you need to socially make an effort and try to introduce yourself to all of the others at the table and you need to make polite conversation with them.

Now often people have trouble making "small talk" as they do not know what to say, so here is a trick I teach people. Read the newspaper the morning of your event. By reading the paper, this allows you to know what is going on around the world and have topics of conversations with people as this gives you many, many things to talk about. If you can't get a paper, listen to the news on the radio or go online.

When at a wedding, it's considered rude to ignore the strangers at your table. Try to make conversation. ISTOCK

Not your average dating advice

Candid. Tracy McMillan tells it like it is

HEIDI PATALANO
Metro New York

Hey ladies, want to know why you can't seem to find a long-term relationship? Tracy McMillan has some choice words for you. She says it's either because you're a b—, a slut, a mess, a liar, selfish, not good enough, crazy, shallow or godless.

But before you get up in arms over these accusations, know that what she means isn't as harsh as those pronouncements sound. For example, by saying "you're not good enough," McMillan explains that it's a woman's negative attitude about herself that allows her to accept poor treatment from men.

She adds that, "A lot of people go looking for in a partner something that they don't even realize that they believe is missing in themselves."

But the extreme nature of the bullet points of McMillan's message did make her original Huffington Post essay, Why You're Not Married, set a record number of page views for the site since it was posted in February 2011.

McMillan's straight talk about how women can sabotage their own relationships is the kind of sage wisdom most dating books avoid.

"Finding someone that you are going to love one day at a time for the rest of your life isn't something you can hunt down and kill," McMillan says.

"You need to operate in the part that's kind of beyond what you can control. What that means to me is that he may not look like what he's supposed to look like or have the job you think he's supposed to have. What you need could be very different from what you think you want, and I feel like a lot of dating advice books don't speak to that."

McMillan explains that love is work — "the ultimate yoga" — and that it's about examining our own behaviours before blaming the dating market.

"It's not easy to love another person because we're all really flawed, but I think if you can learn how to love yourself with your own flaws and work at making yourself better, you can also love another person and create a space for them to make themselves better," she says.

Where does McMillan get all this great advice from? Being married three times.

She freely admits that she's made every mistake in the book, but all that experience has sharpened her sensibilities when it comes to dating.

Why You're Not Married ... Yet will be released on May 29.

Go-getter sends email survey to woman after dates

We all remember ye olde tale of the online dater who organized his potential matches using a spreadsheet rankings of the women on a scale of one to 10.

Now, brace yourself for the latest star of the awkward dating techniques show.

Meet Mike, a 24-year-old finance worker based in Philadelphia, who is just looking for a little feedback. Unfortunately for him, his former dating partner seized the opportunity to humiliate him after she was sent a survey about her interaction with Mike once they agreed to stop seeing each other.

The young woman met Mike on OKCupid and told Deadspin that he is "six feet, overall moderately attractive." However, after a few dates, she realized it just wasn't "there."

This guy needs to know when to call it quits. ISTOCK

"He struck me as a little socially inept hence why I was starting to doubt the 'non-physical' attraction," she told Deadspin. "He wasn't too creepy, just the type of guy who over analyzes every detail and feels completely awkward in the majority of social situations. It didn't seem like he got out much."

And that's when Mike sent the survey ... in an email ... with a subject line including a Romeo & Juliet passage.

"Good Night, Good night!

Parting is such sweet sorrow, that I shall say good night till it be morrow," if you must know.

So what is it that Mike wants to know? Basically, all of the questions everyone wonders after a date, but never ever asks because it would be super weird and socially inappropriate to do so. For example, "Mike is very masculine. At any point; did you feel he was compensating for anything?"

Here's another perfectly reasonable question: "Are you a feminist? — your answer is for informational purposes only."

Also, in case she wanted to leave Mike any final thoughts, he included an area where she could "feel free to use the space below to draw Mike a picture."

What to do when someone 'shows you the money'

Financial windfall. It's not a dilemma we often have but sometimes a pile of cash comes your way. So what should you do with it?

Alison's money rule

Financial windfalls are rare. Treasure them and be slow to make spending decisions.

YOUR MONEY
Alison Griffiths
money@metronews.ca
Twitter: @alisononmoney

"A divorce," once noted Margaret Atwood, "is like an amputation: you survive it, but there's less of you." This usually means financially too.

But a friend of a colleague here at Metro, is exiting her marriage with a slightly fatter wallet, $20,000 to be exact. And now she's wondering what to do with it.

Confession. After my own divorce eons ago I bought a red telephone and a sexy green Karmann Ghia. However, with the wisdom of time at my disposal, I'd suggest something different.

First of all, take a breath; park the $20,000 in a short term GIC or high interest savings account for at least a couple of months until the emotional dust settles a bit.

Second, after a windfall of any kind, ask the question, "Who are you?" Spending, saving and investing is entirely dependent on your personality and situation. A young, safely employed, debt-less divorcee with no kids could justify a fab trip, a killer new wardrobe or cool wheels.

On the other hand, debt, dependents and dreams might steer you in a different path. Let's say you have sizeable RRSP (registered retirement savings plan) contribution room. Deploying most of the funds to retirement savings might yield a nice refund next year, which could then be used to pay down debt.

If kids are in the picture dividing the money up between an RRSP and an RESP (registered education savings plan) would provide a smaller tax refund but the RESP deposit will attract a 20 per cent government grant.

Now to dreams! I always advise those receiving a windfall to do a little dreaming about the future. It could be more education, a home or even a business. A few years back one reader took a chunk of her divorce settlement and bought a commercial grade sewing machine, cutting table and fitting dummy. She now has a internet business custom sewing for hard-to-fit folk.

If you have kids you might want to indulge their dreams also. But take care with this because spending to assuage the pain of divorce is a temporary bandage at best.

Next week, I'll offer a few ideas for investing the windfall. ALISON GRIFFITHS IS THE AUTHOR OF COUNT ON YOURSELF: TAKE CHARGE OF YOUR MONEY. REACH HER AT ALISON.GRIFFITHS.CA OR AT GRIFFITHS.ALI-SON@GMAIL.COM

Activating Plan B – become a future landlord

FUN AND FRUGAL

Leslie Scorgie
money@metronews.ca
Twitter: @Lesliescorgie

I cannot help my frugal self — I refuse to pay more for something than it's worth. I'm nearing 30 days left before my house sale closes and I cannot seem to find a new property that fits my criteria AND has reasonable potential for added value.

So, this week I began exploring an entirely new home-buying idea. What if, instead of succumbing to the pressure to buy an over-priced inner-city detached home, I bought with an entirely new set of criteria; a small, centrally located condo with high rental income potential?

I'll live in it for a few years, and when I finally do find the right shack, I can rent out the condo and move into my more affordably priced dream home.

This idea led me to hours of Google research to determine what characteristics I should look for in a profitable rental income property.

Buying in a good neighbourhood will help attract quality tenants. If you would like to rent to a family, the property needs to be located near schools and playgrounds.

Proximity to downtown would be important in attracting a downtown professional. A low neighbourhood crime rate would make tenants feel safe.

Municipal planning departments can inform you on what other developments are set to take place near your rental property. Generally speaking, if there's significant development zoned for your area, like malls or condos, growth is expected. But certain developments, like a major thoroughfare could increase noise and decrease green-space which will hurt your tenant prospects.

Vacancy rates indicate how successful you'll be at attracting tenants. Low vacancy rates allow landlords to maintain or raise rental rates. Alternatively, high vacancy rates force landlords to lower rents to scoop up tenants.

The condition of the property can be determined by a home inspector. Avoid ones with structural integrity issues. Inexpensive aesthetic changes can be made to 'healthy' properties that will attract tenants.

Rental rate will determine whether the property is to be profitable. If the rent is not enough to cover the mortgage, condo fees, and taxes, keep looking around.

The bottom line on rental properties is that they're supposed to contribute to your equity and monthly cash flow, not the opposite. In my case, it may serve a secondary purpose — it buys me time to find the right house while building up a long-term investment.

'Short-term memory time' for Oil Kings

Memorial Cup. Saint John Sea Dogs beat Edmonton Oil Kings 5-2 to create four-way tie in the tournament

The Saint John Sea Dogs have served notice they are still the team to beat at the MasterCard Memorial Cup.

Zach Phillips scored twice and the defending champion Sea Dogs used greater effort and more of their considerable skill to defeat the Edmonton Oil Kings 5-2 on Monday night and create a four-way tie for the tournament lead.

For Saint John, it was a much stronger performance, particularly from their top talents like Phillips, Jonathan Huberdeau and Charlie Coyle, than their listless loss to the London Knights in their opening game on Saturday.

"It's really just our work ethic," said Phillips. "When we work hard, there aren't many teams that can beat us."

The Western Hockey League champion Oil Kings are back in action Tuesday night against Ontario Hockey League winners London, while Saint John faces what is sure to be an emotional final round-robin game on Wednesday against their Quebec Major Junior Hockey League rival Shawinigan Cataractes.

Huberdeau, Danick Gauthier and Ryan Tesink also scored for the Sea Dogs, while Kristians Pelss and Stephane Legault replied for Edmonton, which beat the host Cataractes in their first game.

Sea Dogs coach Gerard Gallant singled out Tysink as an inspiration as he was crushed by a Griffith Reinhart hit in the first period and rebounded with a solid two-way game.

It was an important win for Saint John, as only one team has ever started 0-2 and won the tournament — the 2009 Windsor Spitfires.

The Oil Kings, who were coming off a two-day break, must now make a quick turnaround to face a London side that plays a tight defensive game and likes to surprise opponents on counterattacks.

"We just couldn't get it done," said forward Curtis Lazar. "We need to pick up the effort, but it's short-term memory time now."

Edmonton coach Derek Laxdal said Lazar's line with Legault and Henrik Samuelsson was his best because of their energetic play, but said there were some passengers on his team who will need to pick up their game against London.

The slow, choppy ice that has plagued the tournament during a spring hot spell was evident again in strange bounces and unusual goals. Organizers have called in ice expert Mike Craig to help improve the playing surface for the rest of the event.

The Sea Dogs got a quirky one early as Phillips fired the

Tie-breaker

Canada gets favourable draw

Another disappointing finish at the IIHF World Hockey Championship didn't end up hurting Team Canada in the seedings for the next Olympics.

It arguably landed in the best of the three groups for the 2014 Games in Sochi, Russia, along with Finland, Norway and a lower-level qualifier.

The groups were determined based on the world rankings at the conclusion of the IIHF World Hockey Championship, which was won in dominant fashion by Russia on Sunday.

Canada had hoped to use a good finish at the tournament to guarantee the best group possible in Sochi. It remained fifth in the world ranking after losing in the quarter-finals, but landed in a decent group after a surprisingly strong world championship from Norway saw it jump to eighth in the world.

The international scene has been tough on Canadian teams since the Vancouver Olympics with three straight early exits at the world championship.

Under the Olympic tournament format, the top two teams in each pool — plus the next best two — move on to the quarter-finals.

Other pools

- The No. 1-ranked Russians are grouped with the U.S., Slovakia and a qualifier when they vie for Olympic gold on home soil.

- The Czech Republic, Sweden, Switzerland and a qualifier are the other group.

Bass lowers boom as Celtics top 76ers

NBA. Boston forward comes through in Game 5 with career night

Brandon Bass scored 18 of his post-season career-high 27 points in the third quarter on Monday night as the Boston Celtics pulled away from the Philadelphia 76ers to win 101-85 and take a 3-2 lead in their Eastern Conference semifinal series.

Kevin Garnett added 20 points and Rajon Rondo had 13 points and 14 assists for the Celtics, who can advance to the East finals with a victory in Philadelphia on Wednesday. The Sixers need a win to force the series back to Boston for a decisive Game 7 on Saturday.

Elton Brand scored 19 and Evan Turner had 11 points and 10 rebounds for Philadelphia, which led by six points early in the third quarter before Boston scored 14 of the next 16 points. Bass scored eight of them, including back-to-back dunks followed by a steal that set up Ray Allen's fast-break layup to give the Celtics a 63-57 lead with five minutes left in the quarter.

Boston closed out the third with a 10-2 run over the final three minutes and outscored the Sixers 28-16 in the period.

The Celtics also scored 16 of the first 22 points in the fourth quarter — seven from Rondo — to put away the game.

Paul Pierce had 16 points — going 9 for 9 from the free throw line — and Allen, back in the starting lineup because of an injury to Avery Bradley, had five points.

The Celtics acquired Bass in December in a trade with Orlando for Glen "Big Baby" Davis, and he worked his way into the starting lineup after the all-star break. Although he solidified the power forward position after Garnett moved to centre, he hadn't done anything spectacular — until Monday.

McNamee wraps up testimony against Clemens

Brian McNamee finally got to name names in front of the jury. Andy Pettitte. Chuck Knoblauch. Mike Stanton.

The U.S. government's case got a boost as it hit the homestretch Monday in the sixth week of the perjury trial that will determine whether Roger Clemens lied to Congress in 2008 when the former star pitcher denied using performance-enhancing drugs.

McNamee, Clemens' former strength coach, is the only person to claim firsthand knowledge of Clemens using steroids and human growth hormone, and his credibility was attacked relentlessly last week by Clemens' lawyer.

The government embarked on a rehabilitation job with its key witness on Monday, then moved on to a beer expert who put a date on the infamous Miller Lite can that became a key piece of evidence and a witness who placed Clemens at a pool party at Jose Canseco's house in 1998.

Before Monday, McNamee had not been allowed to say that he provided former Clemens teammates Pettitte and Knoblauch with human growth hormone, or that he helped ex-Clemens teammate Mike Stanton obtain HGH from a drug dealer.

Breaks go Jays' way against Rays

Kyle Drabek overcame command issues to win for the first time on the road this season, Yunel Escobar hit a tie-breaking homer and the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Tampa Bay Rays 6-2 on Monday night.

Drabek (4-4), who entered 0-3 with a 5.23 ERA away from home, allowed two runs and three hits in six innings. The right-hander walked six, struck out three and had three wild pitches.

Escobar put Toronto in front 3-2 on a solo homer off Jeremy Hellickson (4-1) in the sixth.

The Blue Jays took advantage of two Tampa Bay errors to go up 6-2 with a three-run eighth. Two runs scored when third baseman Sean Rodriguez was charged with an error for an errant throw to second on Jose Bautista's bases-loaded grounder.

Horoscope

♈ Aries | March 21 - April 20.

Keep your wits about you today, because the planets indicate there is money to be made.

♉ Taurus | April 21 - May 21.

As from today there should be no further doubts about what it is you desire and what it is you intend to do with your life.

♊ Gemini | May 22 - June 20.

Some thoughts can be shared and some thoughts are best kept to yourself.

♋ Cancer | June 21 - July 22.

There is a lot you can do on your own but there is absolutely nothing you cannot do with like-minded friends by your side.

♌ Leo | July 23 - Aug. 22.

If ever there was the perfect time to impress employers and other important people that time is now. Be brilliant.

♍ Virgo | Aug. 23 - Sept. 22.

You may have an overwhelming urge to get away from your everyday environment but because you have duties to perform that might not be possible today.

♎ Libra | Sept. 23 - Oct. 22.

The Sun in Gemini at this time of year encourages you to think in new ways.

♏ Scorpio | Oct. 23 - Nov. 21.

Don't try to analyze why you feel so good today because the more you chase after the feeling the more it will slip away from you.

♐ Sagittarius | Nov. 22 - Dec. 21.

Success is yours if you have the right attitude. And what is that? That you are a blessing on the world.

♑ Capricorn | Dec. 22 - Jan. 20.

Even the most tongue-tied of Capricorns will express themselves beautifully today.

♒ Aquarius | Jan. 21 - Feb. 18.

Take life as it comes and don't worry about tomorrow or the day after that.

♓ Pisces | Feb. 19 - March 20.

Go out of your way to get along with people today, even people you might prefer to avoid. Everyone you meet has something to teach you.
